Hello,

The US EPA has prepared the following information resource:

EPA is committed to working closely with response agencies and state and local officials to ensure the safety of citizens, respond to concerns and to evaluate impact to water contaminated by the Gold King Mine Release. EPA is sharing information as quickly as possible with the public as experts work to evaluate any effects the spill may have on drinking water, public health, agriculture, fish and wildlife. Please see our website for the latest information: <http://www2.epa.gov/goldkingmine>
Regular updates will be posted as they are available.
EPA Hotline: 844-607-9700 (toll-free)

Comments: I live in Colorado and have been watching the reporting of the spill into a river within Colorado. What is really frustrating, if this was a private contractor there would be talk about substantial fines and probably jail time. We get a "SORRY" and everything should be better. PEOPLE WITHIN THE EPA SHOULD LOSE THEIRS JOBS!!! What a terrible double standard. Sorry??? Give me a break. The EPA does more to screw things up for contractors than they help and then the EPA creates a huge problem and the say SORRY!!! There are a number of businesses that depend on the recreation that the river creates and the river is closed. No idea when it is going to open and we get a SORRY. Give me a break!!! I hope, and truly doubt, that the EPA makes it right with the large numbers of people and businesses that were affected by this. Oh wait, that is tax payers money that will be dealt out because of the mistake. The people within the EPA should pay out of pocket to make it right. That is what a private contractor would have to do.
Sorry doesn't cut it!!!
